Do you need a new jacket or jeans? Are you looking for some special clothes for a party or for your next holiday? Turn on your computer and go surfing!

Nowadays a lot of people are buying their clothes on the Internet. But why not go to a clothes shop? Online shopping is fast, convenient and usually cheap. Katie Douglas, a 21-year-old student from Birmingham buys a lot of her clothes online.

'I think it's a great way to do your shopping nowadays. You're at home and you can find what you want. And you can see all the clothes on your computer screen, or ... click on an photo and print it out! It's very easy! And if you order clothes that are too big or too small, you can change them.'

Does Katie see any problems with shopping on the web? 'Well, it takes time to find a good site and it's important to know what you're looking for. So I guess sometimes it can take a long time! And your order doesn't arrive immediately. Usually when I buy online, the clothes arrive in four days. Another thing is that you pay for the postage, and import tax if you buy from abroad.

So sometimes online shopping can be expensive. But I love it!

So, is it a good idea to buy clothes online? To find out ... why don't you buy one piece of clothing on the web and then decide for yourself?!

Meet our teachers

Philip Rogers started teaching in 1992 and came to our school in 1994. He was born in 1960 in England and doesn't remember much of the 1960s. He wasn't interested in football then and didn't see England win the World Cup in 1966. The first big news story that he remembers is when the Americans landed on the Moon in 1969. In the 1970s, Philip remembers holidays in Cornwall. He stayed with his aunt in a house with a beautiful view of the sea and a busy harbour. His aunt had a boat and they often went sailing and sometimes they caught fish. He swam every day and ate lots of Cornish ice cream. In 1978, Philip went to university in Oxford. He was quite shy and didn't like living there at first. Later he made some friends and liked living in Oxford. He started going to football matches and concerts. He liked going to a place called 'The Oranges and Lemons'. He saw lots of bands there but he didn't see any famous people because it was a very small place. After university, Philip went to live in London. This was in the 1980s and Philip now hates looking at photos of this time. Clothes and haircuts in the 1980s were very strange! He didn't have a good job. It was difficult to find work. He worked in a burger bar on a train station. He liked the job but he had to get up at 5 o'clock because he started work at 6 in the morning. He liked living in London but he didn't live in the centre. He lived in a place called Tottenham in North London. In 1988, he left London and went to America. He went in October and came home in December. It was a great time. He travelled all over the country but he didn't sleep in hotels. He travelled at night by bus and slept on the bus. His favourite place was New York. He loved the big city and the smell of food everywhere. Now he is married and has two children. He is a teacher and he likes remembering when he was young.
